

First Class ARRIVALS

Travellers landing at Robert L. Bradshaw Airport on St. Kitts or Vance W. Amory on Nevis, as well as seafarers sailing straight into Christophe Harbour, and passengers arriving in Port Zante or Charlestown, can expect a first-class welcome BY PETER SWAIN

First impressions are everything. The Kayanjet Private Terminal, open to international passengers arriving or departing by private charter or commercial airline at St. Kitts Airport (SKB), provides the business and leisure facilities travellers expect to find in any first-class lounge worldwide.

A fleet of Porsche Cayennes transfer passengers between their flight and the lounge. While they enjoy a tranquil glass of champagne and gourmet catering, plus full internet services and use of private meeting rooms, attentive staff look after all customs and immigration paperwork, and deal with the baggage. All-important security checks are fast and discreet.

The Park Hyatt and Christophe Harbour, as well as the Four Seasons on Nevis, offer this exclusive facility to their guests. kayanjet.com

Once through the lounge, Four Seasons guests take a short drive to Port Zante, where they board a private speedboat for the 30-minute crossing to the resort's brand new on-property pier on Nevis.

On board, they can enjoy their first rum punch or fruit cocktail of the trip, so arrive suitably relaxed. fourseasons.com/nevis

Other visitors wanting to cross the two-mile wide Narrows in comfort and style can use the small fleet of water taxis plying their trade between Reggae Beach or Christophe Harbour on St. Kitts and Oualie Beach on Nevis – with Wincent Perkins, who has several boats capable of carrying a dozen or so passengers at a time on the eight-minute crossing, the most reliable skipper. 662 7081

Alternatively, there's the aerial route. HeliSKB operates four-passenger R66 helicopters that can fly passengers speedily and comfortably from SKB, Port Zante and Frigate Bay to the airport on Nevis. The company also offers spectacular sightseeing trips around the two islands. heliskb.com

“The brand new Customs House offers the ultimate in first-class arrivals”

Nevis Airport (NEV) is used by Caribbean 'island hoppers' like Tradewind, Seaborne, Winair, Air Sunshine and Trans Anguilla, as well as private charters. It's a rather smaller affair than its Kittitian neighbour, but friendly efficiency ensures passengers are on their way within 15 minutes of landing. nevisisland.com

For sailors arriving at Christophe Harbour, the brand new Customs House offers the ultimate in first-class arrivals. This superyacht marina community on St. Kitts's Southeast Peninsula is constantly expanding, with stylish new villas and restaurants appearing every year
